

TITANIC GUIDE

► TITANIC - D.I.Y.

Titanic Interactive Trail

Visitors can learn more about the Titanic story through the 'Belfast Titanic Trail' - the world's first interactive digital tour using the latest Global Positioning System based technology. This state of the art handheld digital device will take visitors on an interactive multi-media tour of the key Titanic sites and transport them back in time. The handheld and transportable nature of this device means it can be enjoyed as the visitor walks through the sites or from the comfort of a coffee shop.

Available to hire from Belfast Welcome Centre; Tel: 028 9024 6609.

Belfast's Titanic Heritage Trail

This innovative guide is available from the Welcome Centre and will take visitors on an adventure around the city and Titanic Quarter. Visitors will learn about the Titanic itself, from the creative minds who conceived her, to the men who designed and built her, to her ill-fated maiden voyage.

Available from Belfast Welcome Centre; Tel: 028 9024 6609.

Visitor Information Signs

Follow the city's visitor information signs down to the riverside and venture across to find signs that will tell you all about Belfast's shipbuilding industry.

Personal Titanic

'Lagan Legacy' and 'Belfast Family History' are two organisations that can help visitors trace their roots and research any family connections with the Titanic. Lagan Legacy is home to an extensive database of recorded interviews of personal memories relating to the Titanic and the shipyards which will be available to the public on their new barge moored at the Waterfront Hall, Lanyon Place.

Lagan Legacy; Tel: 028 9033 0844; Web: www.laganlegacy.com

Belfast Family History; www.belfastfamilyhistory.com

Lagan Legacy

► TITANIC - GUIDED TOURS

Belfast City Hall Tours

The City Hall has often been described as the 'stone' Titanic. Public tours of the City Hall are available daily (except Sunday) at 11am, 2pm and 3pm – starting at City Hall reception. Tour lasts approx 1hr 15mins.

Tel: 028 9032 0202; Web: www.belfastcity.gov.uk

Admission Free, Monday - Saturday: 9.30am – 5.00pm.

NB The City Hall will be closed for renovation from July 2007.

Titanic Boat Tours

The Lagan Boat Company provides the world's only authentic Titanic Boat Tour around the shipyards of Harland & Wolff in Belfast. Tour last approx 1hr.

Tel: 028 9033 0844 / 077 1891 0423; Web: www.laganboatcompany.com

Walking Tours – Thomas Andrews' Belfast

This guided Edwardian walk in Belfast City Centre takes you back to the turn of the last century to the Belfast of Sir Thomas Andrews, the designer of the Titanic. This tour is taken by an accredited Blue Badge guide. Tour lasts approx 1hr.

Isabel Anderson - Blue Badge Guide; Tel: 028 9066 7083

Web: www.bluebadgeireland.org

Thompson Titanic Trail

The Thompson Titanic Trail takes in the Thompson Dock and Pump House where the HMS Titanic had its final fit-out. Take in a view of the Dock and learn more about Belfast's maritime history at the visitor centre. Guided tours by arrangement. Opening Spring/Summer 2007.

Tel: 028 9073 7813; Web: www.nisp.co.uk

▶ TITANIC FESTIVAL

Titanic - Made in Belfast

Belfast City Council hosts an annual festival at Easter each year at the City Hall with exhibitions, speakers, tours and family events for all to enjoy. This years festival will take place from 7th – 14th April 2007.

Tel: 028 9032 0202; Web: www.belfastcity.gov.uk/events

▶ TITANIC - DISCOVERY

SS Nomadic

The last surviving ship with links to the Titanic has returned to Belfast, nearly a century after she first emerged from the Harland and Wolff yard where Titanic itself was built. The SS Nomadic was used to ferry first-class passengers to Titanic when she was docked at Cherbourg. Led by the Nomadic Charitable Trust it is currently being lovingly restored to its former glory.

Web: www.nomadicpreservationsociety.co.uk

Belfast Titanic Society

The Belfast Titanic Society works to celebrate and preserve the achievement that was the Titanic, built here in Belfast.

Tel: 028 9146 5137/ 028 9145 6565; Web: www.belfast-titanic.com

Belfast and Titanic – The Future

With the regeneration of the Titanic Quarter, complete with a dedicated Titanic visitor attraction, Belfast is once again reclaiming her place as the true home of the Titanic. The visitor attraction is due to be complete in time for the centenary of the Titanic's launch in 2012.

